~ President's Message ~

Dear AAUW Fallbrook,

Hello! and welcome to a new year of working together to carry out our AAUW Mission of empowering women and girls through research, advocacy, education, and philanthropy. At AAUW Fallbrook, we work hard to mentor girls who are the first in their family's generation to go to college. We work hard to give eighth-grade girls an opportunity to attend a week-long camp of science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) learning. We work hard to give high school seniors financial support as they head off to college. It takes a village, and I am grateful for your membership and contribution to make all this possible.

We have a full schedule lined up with informative meetings and fun events. Please be sure mark your calendar and bring a friend whenever you can. I hope to get to know you all better as we embark on this meaningful, and fun, journey of helping girls and young women in our community.

Best regards,

Young Milton

Fallbrook Scarecrow Days History

In April of 2012, a group of volunteers were brought together by Jackie Heyneman. She had an idea to stimulate interest in downtown Fallbrook businesses. She told the group about a place that she visited where handmade scarecrows were displayed during the month of October. The Fallbrook group liked the idea and felt it fit well with the agricultural and artistic nature of their town. Plans were made to launch the first Fallbrook Scarecrow Days that October.

It was a success! Now FSD is planning its sixth year. The number and variety of scarecrows has grown each year. Local merchants, non-profit organizations, scouts and other youth groups all participate, bringing excitement to Fallbrook in the fall. In addition to the scarecrow displays, the Chamber of Commerce hosts the Fallbrook Harvest Faire.

The scarecrow has been chosen by the mentorship group for Fallbrook's Contest in October.

Megan Rapinoe, world soccer winner who has aggressively been pursuing equal pay, is Fallbrook AAUW mentorship group's newest scarecrow.

She is bold, with spiky pink hair, outspoken with colorful language. Rapinoe is internationally known for her crafty style of play and her precise cross to Abby Wambach in the 122nd minute of the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup quarterfinals against Brazil, which resulted in an equalizer goal and eventual win for the Americans after a penalty shootout. The last-minute goal was awarded ESPN's 2011 ESPY Award for Best Play of the Year.

As a member of the U.S. Women's National Soccer Team, she helped the U.S. win the 2015 and 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup tournaments, a gold medal at the 2012 London Olympics, and finish runners-up at the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup. In addition, she is an advocate for numerous LGBT organizations, including the Gay, Lesbian & Straight Education Network (GLSEN) and Athlete Ally. In 2013, she was awarded the board of directors Award by the Los Angeles Gay and Lesbian Center.

While the women's team awaits the result of their pending lawsuit demanding equal pay, AAUW is shooting for the same goal. For example, we're advocating for state and federal legislation like the Paycheck Fairness Act and fair employer practices.

In addition, AAUW is training millions of women to be their own strongest advocates when negotiating for their salaries. You can help by registering for Work Smart Online and encouraging your networks to do the same. When we work together to drive change while empowering women, we all get closer to our goooooooooaaaaa!

What a wonderful way to spend a Sunday afternoon with my mentee, Sarai Ixta at the Oceanside Museum of Art - Karen Langer Baker

Karen Langer Baker's former mentee

Stephanie Sanchez and her family celebrated her graduation from UCLA as well as the FUHS graduation of her brother, Miguel.

Stephanie received enough scholarships to have come out 4 years later debt-free! Miguel has received full scholarships to CSU Fullerton, where he'll be starting in the fall.

Susan Duling let us know that Tech Trek 2019 was wonderful.... finished #10 year. Judy was awesome and our two junior counselors were excellent.

On behalf of Hatter, Williams & Purdy Insurance, AAUW member Karen Estes accepted an award for being a long-time member of the Fallbrook Chamber of Commerce (over 25 years).
