Women with Vision

volume 38, issue 2, September 2022

Celebrating Our 76th year!

Young women with dreams become women with vision

Our Mission: To advance gender equity for women and girls through research, education, and advocacy.

Our vision: Equity for all.

Our values: Nonpartisan, fact-based, integrity, inclusion, and intersectionality.

President's Message

At our fabulous brunch on August 13, Joy Frew, on behalf of the San Diego Board of Supervisors, presented Fallbrook AAUW with a plaque commemorating AAUW's efforts to pass Title IX 50 years ago. Change may take time, but we can take a lesson from history.

On August 18, 1920, the 19th Amendment was fully ratified when the Tennessee state legislature approved it. It was a long fight, from 1848 to 1920. At first, many suffragettes felt women's right to vote was a matter for the individual states. Indeed, before the 19th Amendment came into effect, almost half of the states had granted women their rights. Interestingly, the last state to ratify the 19th Amendment was Mississippi in 1984.

Many of us are alarmed by the recent decision by our Supreme Court, in which the justices decided that it should be up to the states to decide whether or not to permit abortion. Now we're seeing how some states are becoming "sanctuary states" where women from places where abortion is illegal can receive safe reproductive care. Some sectors of the population were ready to accept women's suffrage sooner than others; hopefully our "melting pot" of a nation will come to an agreement on a woman's right to choose. I hope it doesn't take so long!

diēs caniculārēs

The ancient Romans called the hottest, most humid days of summer “diēs caniculārēs” or “dog days.” The name came about because they associated the hottest days of summer with the star Sirius. Sirius was known as the “Dog Star” because it was the brightest star in the constellation Canis Major.

Summer, with its dog days, its vacations, its distractions, is over. We have had our holidays, our rest, our recreation. The fall season, with its new opportunities for effort, enterprise and achievement, is upon us. Let us rip off our coats and get down to business. We may have allowed pessimism to grip us during the summer months. We may even have allowed laziness to enter our bones. Now it is up to us to throw off both lassitude and pessimism. The time has come for action, for aggressiveness

Co-Chairs

Members- Margot Dokken, Carolyn Thom, Diane Heins-Glaser

Saturday August 13, 2022 New Member Pot Luck Brunch was a smashing success.

What a beautiful day at the lovely home of Diane and Michael Summers. As always, a real team effort to kick off the year. Hospitality with Alice Orr and her team as well as all the members that contributed to the delicious pot luck brunch. Our president, Margie Masavi welcomed us all and set the great tone of the day. Public Policy Chair, Joy Frew presented Margie with a proclamation from the County of San Diego to AAUW Fallbrook honoring 50 years since passage of Title IX. New members had the opportunity to hear from all of the Interest Group Chairs and the rest of us got to be reminded of all the socialization opportunities there are to get to know each other and have fun too. The opportunity to also see the YouTube video about AAUW was very informative, and we learned of AAUW's storied history and learn more of its value and relevance in today's world. If you would like to share this YouTube the link is <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oQVd3jq6VvM>

Policy Committee

Submitted by Joy Frew

You are welcome to join Chris Assad any I to discuss AAUW Policy Initiatives that AAUW supports. We will probable start meeting on a regular basis after the election (when my schedule allows) to discuss what issues we should take on. In the meantime, for September, there is a National Voter Registration Day taking place at the high school. This is a non-partisan event to register new voters. I would be happy to connect you with my friend Mark Mervich, who is organizing this if you would like to volunteer. Contact me at joyfrew@gmail.com.

Women fought for the right to vote!

102 years ago, on August 18, 1920, the Nineteenth Amendment became the law of the land and white women were allowed to vote. Twenty-six million American women were eligible to vote in the 1920 presidential election.

“The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.”

Theoretically, this sweeping change included all women but practically, it was not until the Voting Rights Acts of 1964 that women of color had this right guaranteed and enforced by Congress.

Historian Heather Cox Richardson noted that on this anniversary, the Department of Justice had filed a friend of the court brief in Florida challenging: “in the face of surging turnout in the 2020 election, the Florida Legislature responded by enacting provisions that impose disparate burdens on Black voters.” (League of Women Voters v. Secretary of State of Florida)

“History” is the present, sisters (and brothers). Looks like our government still will not “give us” anything. We keep having to fight for ALL our rights as citizens and as human beings. November is just around the corner.

Summer with the mentees

Paulina Gonzales experiences a taste of old California at Mission San Juan Capistrano and enjoying high tea in San Juan Capistrano tea house

Chris Assad took her AAUW student Lanique Boling and her companion dog Cinders to Oceanside Harbor yesterday, Friday August 5th to enjoy hiking, shopping and lunch of fish and chips. It was much cooler than in Fallbrook. They all had fun!

Karen and Larry Baker spent a wonderful day at the fair with her two mentees.

Mentorship Program

Karen Langer Baker

This year, several mentors will continue their relationship with the mentees they had last year: Karen Arter, Kathy Bierbrauer, Norine Honea, Sharon Robinson, Patty Carlson, Chris Assad, and Susan Duling. Others will be welcoming new mentees: Diane Summers, Karen Langer Baker, Carolyn Thom, Elizabeth Leader, Karen Estes and Marli Shoop. In addition, three new mentors have joined us: Susan Schaeffer, Grace Vander Werf, and Elizabeth Ward.

Although several activities are planned for the entire group throughout the school year, mentorship is more about personal relationships one-on-one. A mentor is someone a girl can confide in, trust, listen to, interact with, and be guided by on her journey through high school many girls continue to keep in touch with her mentors for years after they graduate.

Mentors and mentees decide on their own how much time they can and want to spend with each other individually.

A contract of agreements is signed by each person indicating each one's commitment to the relationship. Prospective mentees have filled out an application to be considered. After personal interviews, during which the need for timely responses and expressions of gratitude are emphasized, new mentees who have been chosen are paired with their mentors.

During the first meeting (an ice cream social held in the AVID classroom in early September), mentors and mentees will introduce each other and tell the others a little bit about them.

At that meeting, everyone will learn about the year's schedule for group activities, such as building a scarecrow of Jane Gooding in September, taking a small plane ride (each individually with her own pilot) in October, riding the train to spend the day in San Diego's Old Town during Thanksgiving week, baking cookies for and then enjoying them plus a sumptuous potluck lunch provided by the mentors at the group's holiday party in December, preparing for and competing in a speech contest that will be held the end of January, visiting several museums in Balboa Park during Presidents' holiday week in February, holding a career day in April during spring vacation, and, lastly, celebrating graduation in June.

Several of the mentors met in Karen Arter's beautiful garden to plan the year's activities.

- Encourage mentees to write, email, text, or phone thank-you
- Scarecrow building may apply to school-required community service
- Invite mentees to AAUW meetings

Meeting the AVID class

Carolyn Thom and Karen Langer Baker met with the sophomores and juniors in the AVID classroom to explain our mentorship program. Interested girls were given application forms to fill out prior to the interviews that would take place a few days later,

Here Sara Solano told the group about her experiences as a mentee, The whole class applauded when she told them that she had won first place in our speech contest last year

Diversity Equity and Inclusion

National AAUW has placed “Diversity” near the top in the group of topics on which they would like our branches to focus. “AAUW seeks to promote inclusion and awareness for all members to create an equitable, sustainable and inclusive membership reflective of today’s world.” Hmmm. What does that mean? How shall we turn that into action?

It is hard to argue against the idea that society benefits from bringing everybody into the tent. Things work better when we allow and encourage everyone to bring what they have to contribute. A diverse set of ideas generally leads to better results. Think of that old corporate trope, brainstorming. By not rejecting ideas outright, by making room for the new, the out-of-the-ordinary, even the unpopular, we arrive in new places and are rewarded with new possibilities. We change our perspective. We become more innovative. We fight back against boredom, and we get to taste new flavors.

In the era in which AAUW was established, women were diversity. Presto! – give women the same rights and opportunities as men, help women develop their abilities and it is a win/win for everyone. Our country and the world will be a better place. That was the theory.

But we now know that theory doesn’t go far enough. This spring, our book club read and discussed, “The Trouble with White Women” by Kyla Schuller. It painted a picture of how women of color were deliberately cut out of the ‘mainstream’ women’s movement. The contributions of women of color towards the achievement of women’s suffrage are still not widely known. And the benefits of the vote have not been distributed evenly among all women. The book points out that not only are women of color the last to the banquet of American plenty, but the banquet itself is poorer because of it.

We in Fallbrook live in a place of plenty in every sense of the word. Our neighbors come from all over the world; we are a glorious mix of hues and cultures. We see this embodied in the young women we mentor and the young women we watch blossom in Tech and Speech Trek. We get it. Perhaps National AAUW is challenging us to figure out how to tap into the talent of more of our neighbors of color to better accomplish our mission of bettering the lives of women. We have a beautiful tent, and it could be more beautiful.

Thoughts from Cynthia Young and Lesley Ibaven

Hiking Group

The hiking group will be back on the trails starting Friday, September 9 at 8:00 am.

We will be walking the Santa Margarita River Trail from Sandia Creek River Trail from Sandia Creek Rd. We are looking forward to seeing our friends again and the great conversation.

Contact Carolyn Thom carolynthom1@gmail.com if you want to be on the e-mail list.

Book Club (Meets the 3rd Monday of the month at 10:30)

The Bibliobabes, as we affectionately call the members of our Fallbrook AAUW book club, continue to meet monthly. Next review “Klara and the Sun” by Kazuo Ishiguro.

NEW YORK TIMES BEST SELLER: Once in a great while, a book comes along that changes our view of the world. This magnificent novel from the Nobel laureate and author of Never Let Me Go is “an intriguing take on how artificial intelligence might play a role in our futures ... a poignant meditation on love and loneliness”

Here is the story of Klara, an Artificial Friend with outstanding observational qualities, who, from her place in the store, watches carefully the behavior of those who come in to browse, and of those who pass on the street outside. She remains hopeful that a customer will soon choose her. Klara and the Sun is a thrilling book that offers a look at our changing world through the eyes of an unforgettable narrator, and one that explores the fundamental question: what does it mean to love?

Stay tuned! – or better yet, join us. Contact Cynthia Young at 559-2536 for more information.

Movie Group (Meets the 3rd Friday of the month at 6:00)

Welcome back after our summer break!

Mark your calendar for our first AAUW Movie Review of the coming year.

Friday, September 16, starting at 6 PM for social time

Bring a potluck dish to share.

Location: Home of Liz-Jamieson Dunne and Carole Hodges - Directions to follow the week of the 16th.

MOVIE: Where the Crawdads Sing

This is both a book and a movie which many have enjoyed.

Looking for a place to hang out, Tate suggest that they go “where the crawdads sing.” He explains to Kya that it means “far in the bush where critters are wild, still behaving like critters.”

REVIEWERS: Karen & Larry Baker

We will plan to have future events on the 3rd Friday of the month: October 21, November 18 - No meeting in December.

Please RSVP if you plan to attend. Do let me know if you would like to be removed from this list OR you have others to add!

Wishing you all the best,

Carole Hodges
